POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Perhaps you didn't know it, but the United States has quietly gone Republican without even waiting for next year's presidential election!

That is the way it adds up, at any rate, if Republicans are doing the adding.

And it must be admitted, they can submit considerable supporting data to establish their contention.

Here's the GOP case, as their politico-mathematicians present it:

Twenty-six states now have Republican Governors, or will have as soon as the newly-elected Governors of Kentucky and New Jersey take office.

These 26 states, together, command more than a majority of all the votes in the electoral college—enough to elect a President in 1944.

Therefore, the Democratic Party, or the Rooseveltian Party, is now the minority party, and Republicanism is back in the saddle, even though not yet in command at the White House.

Democratic stalwarts, of course, will be quick to point out that there are some loose ends in that figuring. For example, the fact that a state has elected a Republican Governor does not necessarily mean that it would vote for a Republican for President. There may be upsets.

Republicans, however, can counter that with the fact that there are other states, with Democratic Governors—like Indiana—which have predominantly Republican congressional delegations and which may be expected to go for the GOP presidential nominee.

The Republican experts, too, will be quick to point out, as indicative of a drift to GOP ranks, that Kentucky and Missouri, two of the states which now have Republican Governors, are border states, which seldom leave the Democratic Party. That, they will contend, foreshadows a Republican landslide in the offing.

The Democrats, on the other hand, will doubtless cite the fact that they won a majority (even though a slim majority) of the seats in Congress in the 1942 election.

But the Republicans will counter by contending that this was an empty victory, indeed, as a good number of the Democratic congressmen are not New Dealers—and may be expected to bolt their party in '44.

Each party, at this stage, can make a fair case for itself "on paper." But it is well to remember that politicians, like mathematicians, are fast lads with figures. The GOP elephant is breathing right down the Democratic donkey's neck or vice versa, and that's about all that can be said for certain.

More Workers Needed at Surgical Dressing Classes

The chairman of surgical dressings of the Campbell Branch, San Jose Chapter of the American Red Cross, Mrs. F. Wilbur Mitchell, is extending a very urgent appeal for more workers.

A group of loyal women have been carrying on regularly but there is need for more. Several who began the work have dropped out for various reasons, especially since the beginning of the holiday season.

The rooms are now located upstairs in the Curry building and are fully established and conveniently equipped.

Hours are Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 and Friday from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. If any one can spare only an hour or two their services are welcomed.

No uniform is necessary, only a washable house dress or smock that can be left in the rooms, and a square of white cloth, 27 by 27 inches for a head wrap.

As the war progresses the Red Cross is called upon for more and more surgical dressings.

Second Fire of Week Damages Wilshire Garage

Campbell Fire company responded to an alarm Tuesday forenoon to find the Wilshire Oil company service station and garage on Winchester road two doors south of Campbell avenue already partially destroyed and burning fiercely.

An automobile and a motorcycle were destroyed and some damage to others.

Origin of the fire is as yet undetermined.

The property was leased by G. E. Franke and had been in operation only a short time. The family had living quarters in the front ell of the building.

The owner is Joe Guardino of San Jose.

W. S. C. S. Bazaar Event of Friday

An interesting program has been arranged for the Women's Society for Christian Service bazaar and tea to be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

The sale will open at 2 o'clock and the entertainment will begin about 3:30, opening with a brief meditation, "Peace on Earth" by Mrs. George W. Green. Other numbers are a German Carol, Mrs. Earl Buck; a Polish Carol, Rev. D. H. Baldwin; Music the Language of the World, Mrs. Chester Latta; a Child's Carol, Joline Howard; an English Carol, duet, Mrs. Franklin Blaine and Mrs. R. J. Flagg.

A special feature of the bazaar will be the sale of stuffed animals of various kinds.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

MARCH TOWARD SECURITY.

IN MEDIEVAL TIMES MEN SOUGHT SECURITY BY BANDING THEMSELVES TOGETHER IN GUILDS WHICH LIMITED THE NUMBER OF WORKERS AND RESTRICTED THEIR ACTIVITIES AND BY PASSING THE HAT FOR THE RELIEF OF WIDOWS OR ORPHANS OF MEMBERS. THEY SACRIFICED FREEDOM AND HAD QUESTIONABLE SECURITY.

IN OUR DEMOCRACY MEN ARE FREE TO CHOOSE THEIR WORK AND CAN MAKE DEFINITE AND DEPENDABLE PROVISION FOR THEIR FAMILIES—BY PUTTING PART OF WHAT THEY EARN TODAY INTO SUCH SOLID SECURITY AS IS FOUND IN WAR BONDS, LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

- Items In Brief -

Caro Miller, manager of the Campbell Theater, who has been ill for the past few days, is again able to be on regular duty at the show house.

Lloyd Shank, Jr., of the Army Transport Service returned last week from a six-week trip in the Pacific. He is visiting at the home of his parents, Lloyd Shank, Sr., of Latimer avenue.

Mrs. Herbert Kelly and son Danny of San Francisco, spent the holiday and weekend with Mrs. Kelly's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cook of McCoy avenue.

Staff Sgt. Tony Sanfilippo was home on 15-day leave visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanfilippo of Willow Glen. He left Sunday for Epalachicola, Florida where he was recently transferred. Corp. Henry Sanfilippo was also home for the holiday and week-end for an enjoyable family gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow were here recently for an off-date Thanksgiving celebration at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burrow. The Burrows live in Oakland and he is employed by the maritime commission.

Merlin Bohnett who had been in the financial department of the army stationed at Sacramento has now been given his honorable discharge and is home for a short vacation before resuming civilian occupation.

Twelve friends gathered Tuesday to honor Frankie Baldwin on his ninth birthday at the home of his parents Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Baldwin. Various games were enjoyed until late afternoon, after which appropriate refreshments were served.

Sharing Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spragia and family were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Raffanti and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Windbigler and son Marlowe and Charles Wightman.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silberbauer were dinner guests on Thanksgiving day at the W. Brice Whitmore home on Campbell avenue.

Tony Raffanti, Greg Rice, Brice Whitmore, Julius Bachman, Maylon Landis, Abe Klassen and Fred Jones, mighty hunters and fishermen of Campbell, spent two days last week at Middle Creek enjoying these sports. Raffanti shot the only duck, but all the sportsmen got their limits of fish and pheasant.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Grant P. Cottrell, a boy, Grant Stanley, Nov. 17, in the San Jose hospital.

With the approval of the Christian Science Board of Directors in Boston, the Christian Science Hymnal program, given under the direction of the Committee on Publication for Northern California, will be broadcast Sunday evening, Dec. 5, at 7:05 o'clock over station KYA San Francisco.

Kiwanians See TB Film at Tuesday Meeting

Martin S. Walsh, local chairman of the tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale, presented Mrs. Ann Castalanetz who is in charge of the tuberculosis society of Santa Clara county at the Tuesday meeting of the Kiwanis club.

She stated that the county organization which was formed in 1911 is more interested in prevention than in treatment, endeavoring to keep cases from developing.

She went into some detail about the organizational set-up of the society and how the money from the sale of Christmas Seals is spent. Motion pictures further explained the work.

Young Nase Hill of Campbell sang very pleasingly, "Morning" and "Give Me One Hour" by Frimml.

Visiting Kiwanian was Prentiss Brown of Los Gatos.

Next week Earl Adams will entertain with a rare musical instrument, with E. E. Lanphear, chairman.

Reductions in Ration Points On Some Foods

The Office of Price Administration has announced reductions in points of meats, several canned vegetables and fruit juices. Some changes are noted as follows:

Green or waxed beans, No. 2 can, reduced from 8 to 5 points; carrots, 8 to 5; spinach, 19 to 12 and baked beans, 14 to 10; orange, grapefruit and sauerkraut juices, point free.

However, canned fish except oysters go up from 12 to 16 points; oysters down 1 point to 4 a pound.

Beef—porterhouse from 12 to 9; top round 13 to 10; 10 inch rib roast 9 to 6; rump roast 8 to 5; hamburger 7 to 6. American cheese, up 2 points a pound. Butter still stays at 16 and oleomargarine at 6.

All changes are effective Sunday.

Notice to Our Subscribers

Owing to the present shortage of newsprint and government regulations about mails it is vitally necessary that our subscription lists be kept on a paid in advance basis.

Notices of expiration dates are mailed in season and we ask your cooperation, as we regret having to discontinue any subscription. Don't discard your notice or put it away and forget it.

We also express our appreciation to the many patrons who are so prompt in their payments.

Ada Rebekah lodge will meet Tuesday, Dec. 7 and the social committee, Mrs. Jessie Silberbauer, Miss Lillie Carney and Mrs. Myra Payne, are reminding the members to bring ten cent articles for the grab bag.

SINCE PEARL HARBOR

A great deal of history has flowed under the bridge of time since that quiet sabbath morning two years ago when Jap-created Hell suddenly fell from the heavens and marked Dec. 7, 1941 as the "Day of Infamy."

"Since Pearl Harbor" has become an expression denoting a profound change in our way of life, for in the flames that leaped up from the stricken ships and barracks, the ease and apathy of the "old order" were consumed and from their ashes arose a new spirit of determination and of devotion to the cause of world freedom.

The bursting bombs that were heard 'round the globe shattered our dream of smug security. We awoke to stark, startling realities. We discovered that we lived not merely on a continent but in a world. We found that our forefathers had not bought liberty for us with their blood. Rather, we learned that they had but made a down payment and that each generation must maintain the installments. Ours was long overdue.

The shock cleared our heads. We swung into the task that lay before us. Almost overnight we rebuilt industrial America and geared it to the tempo of war. We marshalled our manpower and sent our troops to fight all over the world. We "cleared the decks" at home — scoured the attic, garage and backyard for iron, rubber and tin. We dug into our pockets for billions of dollars to finance the fight.

We shall not forget Pearl Harbor. But today we are not spending our time "remembering" it. Our every thought, our every bit of energy must be devoted to the gigantic job yet to be done. But when it is done — as it surely will be — we shall write across the black page of December 7, 1941 this inscription, "Paid In Full."

★ ★ ★ ★ WHAT? NO LATHER?

You may have worked yourself into a lather about many things, but from now on you'll have difficulty getting lathered with—if not about—soap.

What? No soap? Oh, you'll have soap all right, but the lather won't be the same—it's being rationed! If milady wants the creamy suds that used o bubble on her face when she wooed that teen-age complexion, she will have to exercise a lot more muscle—and patience.

You see, it is this way. With Tojo and company having a corner on the palm and coconut oil supplies that used to come from the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, we are definitely short on "sudsy" ingredients. So don't expect your facial soap to "give out" in a big way. It just hasn't got it to give.

"War" soap will keep you just as clean, however. It looks the same, smells as fragrantly, tastes as unpleasantly, and will skid out of your reach in the bathroom just as efficiently as ever. Who could ask for more?

★ ★ ★ FOURTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

Number four—coming up!

The Fourth War Loan Drive, aimed at $14 billion has been announced by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau. It is scheduled from January 18 to February 15, 1944—less than sixty days away.

Especial emphasis is put on the $5½ billion quota assigned to individual purchasers, half a billion above the amount set in the last bond drive.

Better save some of that Christmas money so that you will be well fortified to do your share in financial round four. The purchase of War Bonds by wage and salary earners is a potent weapon for "shooting down" the inflation balloons that are hanging over us. This follows logically since tremendous purchasing power lies in the pockets of the great mass of people with incomes under $5000.

Remember—buying bonds is only half the story—holding onto them is the other half. And we need the whole story! Nothing less will win.

★ ★ ★ ★ PRISONERS' WAR SERVICE

The man whose acts against society cause him to be sent to prison does not lose his love of country and his desire to help it in time of danger.

This fact has been clearly demonstrated ever since America became involved in the war. Inmates of prisons all over the country have been working industriously in the production of a vast variety of war goods and equipment. In Federal penitentiaries the men have voluntarily increased their working hours and are now putting in on an average of between 52 and 56 hours each week.

What do the prisoners produce? At San Suentin, for instance, they hand-weave huge anti-submarine cable nets. They also reclaim tons of strategic materials such as copper wire and rubber from damaged warships. They have worked in the California harvest fields and have prepared tens of thousands of ration books for consumers.

In other prisons throughout the nation men are turning out such things as shoes, shirts, assault boats, bomb noses, tarpaulins, blankets, soap, rope, steel berths and cargo nets.

It is not too much to hope that this important work is giving the men new pride and encouragement from which will arise the desire and determination to be useful members of society. In fact, the rapid drop in prison population indicates that already this is taking place.

★ ★ ★ ★ A CITY CONDEMNED

Hell hath no fury, at least that the human mind can comprehend, that Berlin hasn't already experienced. Under the fierce, remorseless pounding of Allied bombers, it has become a blazing hell on earth—the shambles of a once proud city, condemned to death for its crimes against civilization and humanity.

It is tragic enough when the death sentence is passed on an individual. But when a city of 5,000,000 people is condemned to death, it is a tragedy such as the world has never seen. It is fearful retribution, but even so, it is not as great as the sum total of the murderous horror that the mad men of Berlin have visited on others.

Berlin is a city condemned. Of that, events of the past days and weeks leave little doubt. But the lives of untold millions of innocent men and women will be saved because the murder clinic of Berlin is being liquidated. There is still another city of men who have lived by the sword and must perish by it before the horror is ended. After Berlin must come Tokyo. And then, perhaps, free men can walk and live again, secure in the knowledge that the reign of terror has ended.

★ ★ ★ ★ SAVE PAPER—SAVE A FREE PRESS

The old simile—"as dead as yesterday's newspaper"—doesn't apply any more. The news in yesterday's newspaper may be dead, but the newsprint has a new, war-time value that we hope all our readers will recognize and respect.

There is an acute shortage of newsprint, so acute, in fact, that Congressman Charles A. Haleck of Indiana recently warned:

"It is becoming more apparent every day that newsprint cuts are in the air which might go so deep as to adversely affect the effectiveness of the free press in adequately informing the public on matters of vital importance to the war effort and our civil economy."

So if you want a newspaper delivered to your door tomorrow, save the newspaper you got yesterday and the day before—and do everything you can to aid in the waste paper salvage campaign. For yesterday's newspaper, reprocessed and brightly re-furnished, may appear on your door-step again—with news of that lad you have in the service, or news that a war has been won and that he will soon be coming home.

Yesterday's newspaper isn't dead. Save it, so that it can come to life again—so that we can maintain a free press, and so that you won't miss a single installment in the story of America's Battle for Freedom!

we advise you

to "try the train"

"We're pulling the heaviest loads in history, using every locomotive our railroad owns or can borrow. We're short of trained men, too. To avoid disappointment, better plan on spending Christmas at home."

S. P. Engineer

In normal years the Christmas season is a jolly time on the railroad. Package-laden travelers bound for family reunions fill our trains.

We railroaders have fun carrying people on holiday journeys, and we hate to disappoint a single ticket seeker . . . but this war year we really have no room for pleasure travelers.

Service men on holiday furloughs, relatives traveling to meet them, military personnel in organized groups, business men in war work—these people now have first call on our facilities.

This means that, unless you must travel, you'll be wise NOT to try the train. We hope there'll come a Christmas soon when our message can be different!

Fire Destroys Campbell Home

The house at 10 Gilman avenue was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning. It was the home of Mrs. Bethel Ellis, and at the time fire broke out was occupied by two boys, Lloyd 4 and John 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Goude.

Mrs. Goude was down town shopping when the fire started, apparently in the roof, witnesses reported.

Pvt. G. L. Williams and Grady Shelton of the merchant marine, who were in a home nearby dashed over and carried the two small boys to safety.

All appliances and the stove were shut off Mrs. Goude said, but the women stated they had complained to the landlord about defective wiring.

Neighbors on both sides began removing their belongings, but only the Farmer home had some damage to the kitchen.

Buy and Use Christmas Seals

With the 37th annual Christmas Seal Sale nearing the end of its second week, returns are still coming in favorably according to a report from campaign headquarters in the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis association's office in San Jose.

Money from the Christmas Seal Sale will be used to help with the x-raying of school children and especially to x-ray the chests of adults. It is in this latter group where most tuberculosis is found.

Seal Sale funds will also be used to continue tuberculosis education in both schools and community by furnishing up-to-date printed information about tuberculosis, sound films and speakers and exhibits. Also paid for by Seal Sale funds is the public health nursing service.

The public is urged to buy and use Christmas Seals more generously than ever before, in order that this life saving service of the association may be continued. Persons who did not receive the Christmas Seals in the mail, or who wish to buy more, contact your local chairman, Martin S. Walsh.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"This Is My Brother" by Louis Paul.

Corporal Hilton, Sergeant Evans, Sachs, Dink Peters and Gaobwitz were five American soldiers captured by the Japanese and held as "spies." Their captors held them in torture for weeks before they killed them.

This is the story of a great adventure of the soul, an account of an American soldier's spiritual quest as he awaits death at the hands of the Japanese.

Corporal Hilton keeps a daily record in his dirty little diary of the happenings about him and the actions of his mind. As he awaits death—which he is certain will come, but when he does not know—he struggles with his mind to convince himself that his sacrifice and the sacrifice of his brothers in this war is justified. "I want only to achieve the consent of my mind to die. In two months of hellish battle, hemmed in and denied sanctuary in our retreat we learned to become familiar with the prospect of dying. But we are human. There is an undeniable determination to understand why we are sacrificed." One by one, Evans, then Sachs, later Peters then Gaobwitz were sacrificed. All the while, hour by hour, minute by minute, Corporal Hilton fought things out in his mind—struggled to find the reason for war. Eventually at the eleventh hour "I searched desperately for reasons that could be stated in words, seeking the consent of my mind to die. I persisted in confusing our country's conflict with my own. Well, I believe now that our nation's war is a matter of destiny, while mine and my comrades' war is one of the human spirit. We are made of the fondness we feel for each other; death seems easy when brave friends die all about you. I understand now that as long as I participate in the common effort against the common foe my existence is justified, I am performing my function."

Because it is sad and because it is strong, there are some of you to whom it will not appeal. However, this is

Men and Women Wanted in Navy

Seeking young women for service with the WAVES and young men who can qualify for commissions in the United States Naval Reserve, interviewing officers from the San Francisco Office of Naval Officer Procurement will be at San Jose in the civic auditorium during the hours of 11:00 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Dec. 7, room A.

The visiting officers will interview young men for commissions as officers in the Naval Reserve. There is a special need at this time for technical men—electrical, civil, mechanical and radio engineers.

In connection with the need for women in the Navy, wives of Navy men below the rank of Ensign may now join the Navy's Women's Reserve.

The visiting procurement board will be composed of Lt. Cmdr. Henry, Lt. Andrews, and Yeoman Jane Buck.

Newton Wood, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood is now employed as an auto mechanic in the Army Ordnance Division, Port of Embarkation in Oakland, a position to which he was recommended by an officer who had seen his work. He was greatly surprised upon being told to report to Captain Dunlap to find that it was Percy Dunlap whom he had known in Campbell.

AIR EXPRESS NOW IN ITS 17th YEAR

Speeding wartime air express cargo 2500 miles overnight is U. S. airlines job today. Coordinated air-rail service extends this 3-mile-a-minute shipping service to 23,000 off-airline express offices.

COMMERCIAL air express is starting its 17th year of operation in the United States. It was on September 1, 1927, that the first regularly-scheduled air express service was begun. At some 26 cities from coast to coast, airline and express officials witnessed the inauguration of an air cargo service destined to grow from 17,000 shipments in 1928 to more than 1,405,000 shipments last year.

Many of the first mail and express ships were single-engined, open cockpit biplanes. Packages were stowed wherever there was room. Often the pilot sat on the cargo. Coast-to-coast shipments required 36 hours and 16-refueling stops compared with present-day 16-hour, overnight transcontinental flights. A 25-pound package from New York to the West Coast cost $65 in 1927; today the rate is $21. And for $1.00 a 25-pound package can be air-expressed up to 150 miles. Recent rate reductions, effective July 15th, are indicative of how growing air express volume benefits the shipper.

Post-war air cargo rates, it is confidently believed, will be even lower.

Pioneering in the development of air traffic as early as 1919, the Railway Express Agency has performed the ground services of pick-up and delivery of cargo for the domestic airlines since 1927.

Shipments essential to the nation's war production have boosted traffic volume to the point where an average of 40 tons of air express a day are handled at present.

Cities and towns not on airline routes also are afforded the benefit of air express 3-mile-a-minute speed. By coordinating air and rail express schedules, the 23,000 off-airline offices served by Railway Express are linked to the 350 U. S. airport cities. The increasing importance of this combination rail-air express is evident from figures for the first six months of this year, which showed an increase of 34.7 per cent, compared with the 1942 period. More than 191,800 shipments were handled in the combined service.

Red Cross Reports

little tots are stringing buttons for use in sewing units, through the grades. Here stories and joke books are made, writing pads, games, puzzles and puzzle books and class letters with pictures for children in other countries and ditty bags.

All completed projects are being assembled to be sent in before Dec. 15, to be followed by another consignment in the spring.

The High School Junior Red Cross of which Mrs. Alfreda Runge is chairman, was inaugurated following an assembly program at which Harry Tinstman, assistant director of Junior Red Cross, was speaker.

The drive for members and funds brought in $61.21. Of this amount $25 was sent to the Red Cross for Christmas boxes for men in camps and hospitals. The Girls League is conducting a drive for wash cloths and articles requested by the Red Cross for the hospitals. The art department made 150 Christmas cards to be given to the service men for them to send to relatives.

Several joke and story books are on the way, but just now the major effort, is the scrap drive, from the sale of which a considerable fund will be realized.

Officers of the unit are President, Kathleen Palarin; vice president, Gloria Francesconi; secretary, Gloria Broadbent; treasurer, Jean Baird.

Popular Play in San Jose Dec. 5

"Jane Eyre," the great stage play which closes its month engagement at the Geary Theatre next Saturday evening, comes to the civic auditorium, San Jose, for a single performance on this coming Sunday evening, Dec. 5, before starting on its way back to New York via Seattle and the Northwest.

Sylvia Sidney and Luther Adler, the co-stars, give a "notable production," supported by a New York cast. Mary McCormack in the role of Blanche Ingram is one of those who stand out in the minor roles.

Large groups have been making their reservations for "Jane Eyre," which San Francisco critics declared to be one of the best dramatic offerings of the season. Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office.

Members of Sigma Sigma will pack Christmas boxes for service men and women associated with the Campbell Congregational church next Tuesday evening, Dec. 7 at the church edifice. Any donations of cookies, candies, nuts, wrapping paper, twine, and boxes may be left at the residence of Miss Helen Buck, 73 North Central avenue.

Aviation Cadet Carl B. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Field of North Second street, arrived in Wooster, Ohio last Thursday morning to begin his training at the College of Wooster. Cadet Field is reported as having enjoyed his trip east immensely, seeing many of the points of interest in the middle west for the first time.

CONSERVE AND SAVE FOR VICTORY!

PAMPER Your WATER HEATER! He's a priceless old dear!

Heavens to Betsy...wouldn't it be awesome if your water heater quit you cold? Here are four ways, however, to pamper the old dear to keep him happily and faithfully yours for a long time.

1. CUT DOWN ON WASTEFUL USE OF HOT WATER. Think before you draw even a quart or two of hot water. Was it necessary? Make it snappy when you take a shower. Rinse dishes in a pan...NOT under a running faucet. Use less hot water for a tub bath.

2. DRAIN YOUR WATER HEATER REGULARLY. To drain, open the valve on your heater and run water into a bucket until clear of sediment. That's all.

3. KEEP YOUR WATER HEATER CLEAN. Brush off the burner occasionally.

4. DO NOT HEAT WATER TOO HOT! If your water heater has an adjustable thermostat, set it to 120 degrees. It will be easier on your plumbing, too. Remember call your plumber or repair man only when absolutely necessary. They are busy people these days.
